1. So Cosmo says you’re fat Well I ain’t down with that!
2. Now don’t go wasting my precious time
   Get your act together we could just be fine
3. Why don’t you say the things That you said to me yesterday
4. I’m worse at what I do best
   And for this gift I feel blessed 5. Help me believe in anything
   I want to be someone who believe
6. Please tell me why My car is in the front yard
7. Anything less than the best is a felony
8. “Never look back,” we said
   How was I to know I’d miss you so?
   Loneliness up ahead, emptiness behind Where do I go?
9. So I’m back up in the game
   Running things to keep my swing Letting all the people know That I’m back to run the show
10. Hold this thread as I walk away Watch me unravel […]

RIDDLES

Name three consecutive days without using the words Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, or Sunday.

If you are in a dark room with a candle, a wood stove and a gas lamp. You only have one match, so what do you light first?

A police officer saw a truck driver clearly going the wrong way down a one-way street, but did not try to stop him. Why not?

Leverett Artist-in-Residence
Charlie Albright
IN CONCERT

This Thursday night (October 6th) 9 pm in the Dining Hall. Featuring a program including Schubert, Chopin and more.
Writing Poetry is Hard
by Jeremy Ying

When you’ve got a million feelings and memories and thoughts,
But they don’t quite add up to something writable
Or even something understandable

All you have to do is to chop up Your prose into itty bitty lines;
But, add some variety in line lengths for Emphasis.

Any person with any grasp of English Or just a trigger-happy right pink Can write a poem whether it be

...Happy about the joys of everlasting love And the whooshing feeling that overturns the epiglottis Attempting to hold back the singsong.

...Sad and depressing like the autumnal evenings
With leaves taking the plunge left and right And dead center.

...Playfully trite, kind of annoying, dreadfully cliché, Parallelism broken, the scathingly sarcastic, litiging, Bucolic, alcoholic, vitriolic, melancholic, diastolic...

Anyone can write, everyone can read,
Which is why writing poetry is hard.

Autumnal Activities for All

Now that the weather is cooling down and we are heading into everyone’s favorite season (okay, my favorite season), you may be having trouble transitoning from the GTL routine of summer to more autumnal appropriate activities. Here are some suggestions:

1. Apple picking—Russell’s Orchard in Ipswich is accessible by public transportation and an eight minute taxi ride!
2. Bike riding (places to try: Fresh Pond in Cambridge and the Arnold Arboretum in Boston)
3. Pumpkin carving—try farmer’s markets (Harvard’s is on Tuesdays!) to find the perfect one!
4. Trip to Salem, MA—because who didn’t love Hocus Pocus?
5. Trip to Walden Pond—live simply and wax romantic among the leaves at Walden Pond (you probably need a Zipcar for this one).
6. Leaf rubbing— best kindergarten activity ever! Take a leaf, put it under a piece of blank paper, rub with a crayon and marvel at your creation.
7. Fall Treats! Pumpkin Spice Lattes; hot cider and donuts, yumm. 😊 8. Listen to some fall tunes! Suggestions:
Autumn’ Fallin’ - Jaymay
Autumn in New York –
Ella Fitzgerald & Louis Armstrong
September Gurls - The Bangles
September - Earth, Wind, and Fire
Autumn Goodbye - Britney Spears
Autumn Leaves - Nat King Cole

D-Hall Gourmand

You know the feeling, you get to brain break around 10:30, looking forward all night to a HUHDS cookie, but when you get there, they’ve vanished! Try this sweet treat instead and we promise your sugar buzz will keep you up at least a few more hours.

Krispie Rice Treats (in a bowl!)

Bowl
Krispie rice (plain or chocolate)
Marshmallows (by the hot chocolate) 1 tsp. butter (or SmartBalance if you’re watching your cholesterol) (ingredients should be adjusted according to bowl size)

Fill your bowl to just below the rim with marshmallows and add approximately one teaspoon of butter on top.
Microwave for ten second intervals, stirring after each interval, until the marshmallows are fully melted but not too liquid. Afterwards, quickly add enough rice krispies to fill the bowl (the marshmallows will have shrunk after everything is stirred together). Gently mix the melted marshmallows and the krispie rice and let cool approximately two minutes (or however long you can wait before digging in) and bon appetit!
