Best of the Q

- Very interesting reading—entirely different from Western thought. Even if some of those I consider to be total drivel.

Best of Harvard FML

- I just realized I’ve been using fabric softener as detergent all year…this explains a lot. FML
- I was hooking up with a guy last night and he asked me what I got on my SATs. FML
- Today, my BF told me he has a fetish for women holding calculators. FML

That’s what he said

- "The wireless music box has no imaginable commercial value. Who would pay for a message sent to nobody in particular?"—David Sarnoff’s associates in response to his urgings for investment in the radio in the 1920s.
- "The concept is interesting and well-formed, but in order to earn better than a ‘C,’ the idea must be feasible."—A Yale University management professor in response to Fred Smith’s paper proposing reliable overnight delivery service. (Smith went on to found Federal Express Corp.)
- "We don’t like their sound, and guitar music is on the way out."—Decca Recording Co. rejecting the Beatles, 1962.
- "Stocks have reached what looks like a permanently high plateau."—Irving Fisher, Professor of Economics, Yale University, 1929.
- "Airplanes are interesting toys but of no military value."—Marechal Ferdinand Foch, Professor of Strategy, Ecole Superieure de Guerre.
