L'ALBATROS, the French Literary Magazine of the Harvard French Club, is now accepting literary works written in French (poetry, short stories, narratives, essays, etc.) and art submissions (drawings and photographs) for our spring 2002 publication. The deadline for all submissions is March 15th. Please email written works and inquiries about art submissions to Michael Mirbaba (mirbaba@fas). We welcome any students interested in L'ALBATROS, regardless of experience, and encourage you to visit our website at www.hcs.harvard.edu/~francais.

Dry T-Shirt Contest

Leverett HoCo is looking for a new Leverett House T-Shirt design. Submit your ideas by March 1st to Leverett D-32 (folder). The best design wins $50, so start thinking of good ideas and enter to win!

More Convenient Than the Pawn Shop

You remember this past fall how lev-open was flooded with emails from people trying to buy or sell books, right? You remember how HoCo has always had to coordinate the end-of-year move-out sale of futons, fridges and stuff, right? Now there is an easier and simpler way to buy and sell your textbooks, coursepacks, futons, concert tickets, etc. Just log on to the Leverett Marketplace at <http://leverett.harvard.edu/marketplace>. Use it year round! For questions email market@leverett.harvard.edu.

Take a Ride on the Reading Railroad

Harvard CHANCE is a PBHA program dedicated to giving local high school students the skills, confidence, and support to get into college and to succeed there. CHANCE is comprised of five different programs: SAT prep, TOEFL/ESL, Problem Solving, College Advising, and Writing Workshop/Scholarships and Financial Aid. For more information, visit the CHANCE website at <http://www.hcs.harvard.edu/~chance>

A Guest Room? Suite!

Even though the Leverett guest suite is not available this semester, Harvard affiliates can make reservations for the Kirkland, Quincy and Winthrop guest suites for $60-75 per night. Contact the house offices (swatts@fas – Quincy, kraiber@fas – Winthrop, or dbarrios@fas – Kirkland) for more information.

Did you know? The Student-Faculty Dinner is on March 18. Start lining up your guest today!

The loss of enemies does not compensate for the loss of friends – Abraham Lincoln

Down the Hall from Room 18

Ever feel like no one takes the time to listen at Harvard? We listen every night. If you're a good listener, we need your help. Room 13 is a confidential, non-judgmental peer counseling service for Harvard undergraduates. Two of our counselors are available every night to listen to concerns, help think things through, and provide information and/or referrals to other useful services. For people interested in joining our staff, this year's interviews begin February 18th. If you have questions or would like to schedule an interview, please call 5-4969 any night between 7 p.m. and midnight. For more information, please see our webpage www.digitas.harvard.edu/~room13 or email Room13@digitas.harvard.edu.

Eating Disorders Awareness Week

Eating Disorders Awareness Week is February 25 - March 1. On Monday, February 25th, at 7 PM in Askwith Lecture Hall, there will be a discussion of "Culture, the Media, and Eating Disorders: Reclaiming Our Culture." Watch out for more events later in the week!

Get Out of My Dreams, Get Into My Symposium

Race and the aesthetics of aversion, subjectivity and its discontents, and the impact of September 11 on psychoanalysis are among the topics to be discussed at a one-day symposium sponsored by the Radcliffe Institute for Advanced Study at Harvard. Why Psychoanalysis? A Symposium on the Value of Psychoanalysis for Contemporary Life will be held on Friday, February 22 in Agassiz Theatre, Radcliffe Yard, and is free and open to the public. This symposium will bring together a diverse group of academics and clinicians who will discuss the applicability of psychoanalysis to some of our most complex sociocultural preoccupations. Symposia will begin at 9 AM and will continue through the afternoon. All participants and audience members are invited to a reception at 5 p.m. For more information, visit <http://www.raddiffe.edu>.

What Should I Do? A Workshop for Friends, Lovers, and Roommates of People with Eating Disorders

Conducted by Sheila Reindl and Suzanne Renna. A one-time workshop: Friday, February 22, 4:00-5:30 p.m.

Speaking Up in Class

Conducted by SungLim Shin and Diane Weinstein. Four Wednesday meetings, 12:30-1:45 p.m., beginning February 27.

?! Bharat and Adam's Topics for Discussion ?!

- If you were carving Mount Rushmore, who (or what) would you engrave on its mighty slopes?
- Bharat went to see Crossroads the other day, and was more impressed by the pre-movie entertainment than the movie itself. Which pre-movie filler do you find most entertaining? (choices include celebrity scramble, movie snapshots, rejected titles, and those dancing trashcans)
- You know that fast-talking guy in the old Micro Machines commercials? Whatever happened to that guy?

Latin America? But I Don't Even Speak Latin!

A priority of the David Rockefeller Center for Latin American Studies is to provide opportunities for Harvard students to travel and conduct research in Latin America and other appropriate sites. The Center's Summer Research Travel grants are essential in this effort; average grants amount to approximately $2,000. The Center uses the OCS's Common Application form. The form is available at the Center and online at <http://www.ocs.fas.harvard.edu>. Application deadline is March 1, 2002 at noon. Applications must be submitted directly to the OCS, 54 Dunster Street. The Center's Summer Internship grants were created in an effort to assist students who wish to gain professional experience in Latin America. DRCLAS internship grants are typically partial grants and are intended to be used in conjunction with other sources of funding. Application forms are available at the Center or online at <http://www.fas.harvard.edu/~drclas> and are due Friday, March 15, 2002. Contact Ellen Schneider, schneid@fas.harvard.edu, 6-9153 for more information.
