Miss Brenda Bunnytail is a rabbit descendant of the first rabbits to live in what is now Leverett House. Her ancestors are the inspiration for the rabbits we see on our House crest. The Hare Today, through an interlocutor, was able to secure an interview conducted this past weekend.

Reporter: “Thank you for joining me, Miss Bunnytail. From what I know, you have been around Leverett for quite some time, and you are descended from a long line of rabbit royalty.”

Miss Bunnytail: “Well thank you. Of course, having this respected magazine named after a nickname, which my ancestor bequeathed to this House, is quite an honor. My family has been in this area for a very long time, and we are very happy with the students and Harvard community.”

Reporter: “Please tell our readers some of your story. I understand it wasn’t near as easy to get started here all those years ago.”

Miss Bunnytail: “Yes, it was a fierce struggle in the beginning. My ancestors couldn’t have found a ‘carrot in a grocery store’ as we rabbit’s say. But thanks to a lot of hard work and dedication to unwavering principles, we were able to overcome the initial struggle. Of course, the story of my family’s affiliation to Leverett House is an interesting one. The Leverett’s were here without a clue, but we found them struggling with some of the same problems we experienced and helped them overcome. Out of gratitude, the Leverett’s put my first three ancestors on their crest, which you can still see to this day.”
MYSTERY QUOTE:
“All right, but apart from the sanitation, medicine, education, wine, public order, irrigation, roads, the fresh water system and public health, what have the Romans ever done for us?”

CARTOON

Leverett Sophomores Prepare for Housing Selection

As Leverett Juniors head to the housing office to select their housing accommodations for next year, there are mixed feelings among the class of 2018. “I am so excited to finally get these things settled, but I don’t know if I am going in to this process with too high of expectations”, says sophomore Thomas McThomasson (’18). “I have heard of five-thousand square foot singles, is that a thing?” The Hare Today did not respond.

Other juniors have a better idea of what to expect, and they are preparing to adjust to life in a different room. “I really love the room I have right now, but I know I should move on. I want a change of scenery, and I think moving from McKinlock to the towers will be a good move”, says sophomore Kelsey O’Kelsey (’18). “I made some great memories in this room with all my closest friends, but I want a river view. I think it will make my 9am language class easier if I can wake up to the sunrise over the Charles.”

The Hare Today strongly recommends rising juniors to arrive ON TIME for their room picks, as we know Joann is very busy making all of our lives easier.

Harvard Athletics
Week 3/28 - 4/3

W Tennis: Cornell
Fri 4/1 2:00pm

Baseball: @ Holy Cross
Wed 3/30 5:00PM

M Volleyball: Charleston
Fri 4/1 7:00PM

Softball: BC
Tue 3/29 3:00PM

M Lacrosse: @Albany
Wed 3/30 7:00PM