Events in Boston
• David Guetta Concert: Wed, 11/25 8p, The Roxy
• Downtown Crossing Holiday Market: Sat 11/28 11a-7p handcrafted jewelry, wearables, clay, blown glass, home furnishings, paintings, photography, Christmas ornaments and specialty foods

The Little Things
• Shoving handfuls of popcorn in your mouth really fast and spilling it everywhere
• Emptying the recycling bin on your computer
• The moment at a concert when the crowd figures out what song they’re playing
• Taking the price tag off in one clean peel
• When chopsticks come apart perfectly
• Actually pointing out a constellation in outer space
• Screaming at characters in movies to do things
• Waking up really thirsty in the morning and finding a glass of water you can reach from your bed

Best of Harvard FML
• I was sick for four days. I now have seven favorite shows. FML
• I had a date last night. She said that we should not discuss politics or religion. I’m doing a joint concentration in government and religion. There were a lot of awkward pauses. She told me that I was a poor conversationalist. FML

Questions to Ponder
• What is the most embarrassing song on your itunes?
• What is the most embarrassing song on your itunes that you’ve played way too many times?
• What is the worst decision you’ve watched your roommate make?
• If you could be any animal, what would you be?
• All the lonely people. Where do they all come from?

Food for Thought
• Crayola means “oily chalk.” The name is derived from the French words “craie,” or “chalk,” and “ola,” an abbreviation for “oleaginous,” or “oily.”
• The highest score in a college football game was 222-0, Georgia Tech v. Cumberland College, 1916.
• Lead guitarist for Queen, Brian May, dropped out of a physics PhD at Imperial College in order to play in the band. He finally completed his thesis in 2007.
• In Alfred Hitchcock’s 1960 thriller Psycho, the sound effects for the famous shower scene were created by repeatedly stabbing a casaba melon.
• The Playboy bunny costume was the first service uniform to be registered with the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office
• Andre Agassi’s father represented Iran in boxing in the 1948 and 1952 Olympics

Command Center
