Some classic Leverett house rules as they were distributed to students in 1953: (with some Hare Today commentary)

- "Coat and ties must be worn at all times in the dining hall." You wouldn't want to risk getting your regular clothes dirty!

- "Ladies shall not enter the House unattended; the host must see that they are properly escorted". Wouldn't want those pesky ladies wandering off and winding up in the library!

- "Electrical Appliances of over 100 watts (radios and phonographs exempted) must be registered with the House Superintendent for inspection." Thank goodness this doesn't apply to my phonograph.

- "Students may entertain ladies in their suites between the hours of 4:00 and 7:00 PM Monday through Thursday, between the hours of 4:00 and 8:00 PM on Friday; and between the hours of 1:00 and 8:00 PM on Saturday, Sunday and University Holidays". You may bore them whenever you like.

- "In case of illness or accident and other emergency during term-time, a student should call the Hygiene Department through University switchboard." My arm is bleeding! Somebody get on the switchboard, it’s a hygiene emergency! Oh gosh, it’s bleeding all over my dining hall coat and tie.

If you look you cannot see me. And if you see me you cannot see anything else. I can make anything you want happen, but later everything goes back to normal. What am I?

LEV QUESTIONS

If I want to find my future husband at Harvard, where should I lurk?

- Either the law school library or the medical school library
- Anscombe Society
- Lev gym
- Not the Phoenix
- Final clubs
- The Kong
- Leverett A-42
- I Saw You Harvard
- Dating seminars in Cabot
- Delphic basement, obviously
- Female Orgasm Seminar
- Oh god.

What are you going to do if you can’t find your husband at Harvard?

- Go to Princeton (x3)
- Go to New York and meet one of the 12 million people
- Make someone marry me
- Oh sh*t, what if I can’t find my husband at Harvard?
- Strip
- Call my high school boyfriend back
- I’ll live
- I don’t need a husband
- Well, first I’ll panic a bit, honestly, and then I’m going to bank on reunions
- I’m not really looking to find a husband here (x2)

Would you ever marry a man who is less intelligent than you?

- Yes
- Eh
- Never
- It would be hard to find one
- If I were a woman?
- Absolutely. I’m about to
- Only if he can cook and clean
- Am I drunk
- Will anyone find out
- Define “intelligent”
- Well, I’m not planning to marry a man
- If he went to Harvard, then he has to be kind of smart, right?
- I think I’d have to.

MYSTERY MOVIE Quote

Last week’s quote: “You might be in the room that you die in” is from Saw.

— Do you know if the killer was a man or a woman?
— Well of course I know that! What else is there? A kitten?
