Let Freshman Come Over...

Thu., Oct. 25-Sat., Oct. 27 - "The Rover," by Aphra Behn, directed by Patrick Demers, produced by Ami Vora '03 and Carrie Bierman '04, and executive produced by Alan Symonds '69. Presented by the Freshman Class of 2005 and the Freshman Theatre Program. "The Rover" is a racy restoration comedy, circa 1677, with all the classic elements - masks, mischief, and a whore with a heart of gold. Behn, who may have been a seventeenth century spy, is considered the first professional female playwright in England. Performances take place at the Agassiz Theatre, Radcliffe Yard, 10 Garden St., 8 p.m. all nights. Tickets are $5-$10 and are available at the Harvard Box Office (617) 496-2222.

International Internships
Because Dave Rockefeller Loved Salsa!
The David Rockefeller Center for Latin American Studies is holding an information meeting Wednesday, Oct. 17, 4-5:30pm, for anyone interested in learning more about how to find and fund internships in Latin America. Students who interned in Latin America this past summer will comment on their experiences. Representatives from LASPAU and Bhumi will also be present to answer questions about their own programs and internship connections. The meeting will be at the DRCLAS 61 Kirkland Street. Refreshments provided. For more information please contact Ellen Schneider (schneid@fas).

Login to the online facebook to access an experimental Picture Directory of the entire house and see who your neighbors are. Look for it under ‘House Photos’ after login.

The ocean liner Queen Elizabeth II moves only six inches for each gallon of diesel that it consumes.

The phrase “out of touch” originates with the military. Armies in the eighteenth century marched in increasingly tighter formations. In order to stay in formation, soldiers made sure that they could touch the man nearest to them by swinging their elbows. If you couldn’t make contact, you were “out of touch.”
